Who is Noche Díaz?

Noche has been arrested five times since October 2011 and has had 11 charges piled on him in four New York City boroughs, all for observing and protesting the illegitimate actions of the NYPD. He is facing over four years in jail in a trial that begins Tuesday, April 23, 100 Centre Street, in Manhattan. Noche was one of the first members of the Stop Mass Incarceration Network and helped organize protests that kicked off a citywide struggle against stop-and-frisk. He is well known to the people—and to the NYPD—for being a member of the Revolution Club and the People's Neighborhood Patrol of Harlem.
